EMAIL 1 · OPENER WRITTEN PER LEAD

“Three SRE hires in five weeks usually means the pager is on fire.”

the rest is standard · email 2 is one follow-up, one ask never the main domain · no mailbox over 50 a day

1 • DAY 0

Connect

No note. No pitch. A face to go with the email.

2 • DAY 3

Give

One useful thing about their situation. Nothing asked.

3 • DAY 7

Ask

One soft question.
Stops the moment anyone replies.

THE ROUTING RULE

INTENT ON ONE CHANNEL, CAUGHT ON THE OTHER.

A lead shows intent:

email opened twice

OR

link clicked

The LinkedIn sequence starts the same day.

Connect from the account whose name signed the email.

A reply on either channel pauses everything else.

Nobody gets a robot follow-up after answering a human.

THE OPERATING RULES

THREE RULES. THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

1

Start LinkedIn on email intent

Two opens or one click, and the sequence queues itself. No human decides.

2

Pause the other channel on any reply

One conversation per person. Never two threads racing each other.

3

Keep one record per human

Every touch, both channels, written to one CRM. The report reads itself.
